

Important Information Regarding Licensure Requirements and Program-Specific Details

We hope this letter finds you well. As part of our commitment to ensuring your success in your academic and professional endeavors, we want to provide you with detailed information regarding licensure requirements established by the District of Columbia Board of Nursing, as well as program-specific requirements for our nursing program.

1. Specific Licensure Requirements: The District of Columbia Board of Nursing has established specific requirements for licensure, which include:
 - Educational Requirements: Completion of an approved nursing program.
 - Examination Requirements: Successful completion of the NCLEX-RN/PN examination.
 - Background Check Requirements: Clearance of a criminal background check.
2. Program-Specific Requirements: Our nursing program has the following requirements:
 - Prerequisites: Completion of specified prerequisite courses (please refer to our program handbook for details).
 - Curriculum: Completion of all required courses as outlined in the program curriculum.
 - Clinical Hours: Completion of a designated number of clinical hours as part of your practical training.
 - Additional Expectations or Responsibilities: Adherence to professional standards, attendance policies, and any other program-specific guidelines.
3. Potential Limitations on Licensure Eligibility: It's important to note that eligibility for licensure may be restricted based on certain factors such as:
 - Criminal History: Prior criminal convictions may impact licensure eligibility.
 - Disciplinary Actions: Previous disciplinary actions related to professional conduct may also affect licensure.
4. Notification Method: This written notification is being provided to you through electronic means and will also be available in physical documentation. You will have access to this information before enrollment to ensure full transparency and informed decision-making.

We encourage you to review this information carefully and reach out to us if you have any questions or need further clarification. Our goal is to support you throughout your academic journey and facilitate your transition into the nursing profession.
